A NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS AND THE INTERESTS OF CEDARVILLE AND VICINITY.

FORTY-FIFTH YEAR NO. 28.

Local Citizens Styled "Bums"

The campaign in the county, and particularly in Xenia, over the central committee fight must be reaching fever heat from all reports we get. A very determined fight is being waged by the Gowdy-Marshall crowd to defeat the efforts of George Little in reorganizing the committee outside of the present factions. From the first the Gowdy-Marshall faction endeavored to leave the impression that the situation was a union of Mr. Little with the Schmidt-Shoup faction. This was done for the purpose of keeping the fight along old factional lines.

The situation at present is that before the campaign closes both Marshall and Schmidt may be linked together to defeat Mr. Little, not only in his own precinct but in the organization of the committee. One of the county candidates for another office now has the united support of both factional leaders.

No stone is left unturned in the Second Ward to defeat Mr. Little and in all the history of politics Xenians say they never knew of so many political reports being used to win voters away from Mr. Little.

About the most disgraceful thing is the report that Mr. Little although the president of one of the city banks head of the Hoover & Allison Co., a large land owner and farmer, not having interest enough in Xenia to send his children to the public schools but keeps them in California. Any family that has experienced the pangs of death in the loss of a mother, knows full well that fortune is with the father that can have a sister willing to rear his children under such circumstances.

Another report is that Mr. Little has never done anything for Xenia and that he thinks more of Cedarville and has done more for Cedarville than for his home city.

Greene County's famous woman politician is flitting about in behalf of the Gowdy-Marshall candidates. Having no other ground to attack Mr. Little, this famous female ward-heeler tags Mr. Little's friends and associates in Cedarville as "bums". Local friends are having much sport over the "bum" designation and are willing to accept it, especially after being tagged by the woman politician.

The public may know some of the associates Mr. Little has in Cedarville it would not be out of place to mention the names of some of them in the public print. In fact local people have more or less interest in the "bums". Look the list over.

A. Z. Smith, superintendent of the Hagar Straw Board & Paper Co.
W. S. Hopping, farmer and director of the Cedarville Farmers' Grain Co.

Dr. Leo Anderson, veterinarian.
W. H. Barber, retired farmer.
W. B. Stevenson, retired farmer.
Raymond Ritenour, stockbuyer.
W. L. Clemons, insurance agent and real estate agent.

N. P. Ewbank, councilman and manager Farmers' Cream Station.
Oscar Stratfield, rural mail carrier.

G. A. Shroder, hardware dealer.
Ralph Wolford, blacksmith.
Charles Marshall, retired farmer.
W. A. Turnbull, Postmaster.

The female politician that is taking such an interest in this campaign is the same person that campaigned in November 1920 against President Harding, Governor Davis and Congressman Fess, as well as other Republican nominees.

The Gowdy-Marshall faction is going to spring a surprise but to save them the trouble the Herald will let the public in on it before the time of the primary, August 8. This faction has arranged to have a blank space on the ballot under the heading for County Treasurer and it will be designated for the short term. The average voter will not understand what it is for but the Herald will give the tip in advance. It is their belief that by passing the word out to a few of their trusted friends and workers enough names can be written in that space that will elect a treasurer for the unexpired term of John H. McVey, deceased. They are going on the theory that on January first their man will take over the office. But don't breath who the candidate is to be until the day before the primary. Cross your heart that you will keep it a secret. It is going to be L. T. Marshall, G. T. M., graduate of the Geiger Jones Institute of Political Science and Economics with the degree of "Get The Money." If there should be any voter that does not like this choice we suggest that the name of J. E. Sutton, elected for two terms by the Gowdy-Marshall faction as treasurer cleared by a Gowdy Grand jury of taking back that amount and resigning on demand of a state examiner, be given another chance. His honesty can not be longer questioned—the grand jury, with a blood relative on it, under Judge Gowdy cleared him.

Still Waiting For His Ride

There are more than 600,000 automobiles in the state. Harvey C. Smith, secretary of State and head of the automobile license department, is a candidate for the Republican nomination. Automobile owners will be interested in the little scheme that Harvey put over that drew at least $50,000 from the pockets of the owners that might have gone for tires and gasoline. But Harvey was building a political machine and he devised this plan to make the boys work for him in that license could be had but from one place in the county and the fellow so selected was to get ten cents each. In this county we have more than 5000 automobiles or better than $500 graft. The Exchange Bank of this place asked to handle the license plates gratis to the public but the request was denied. Harvey was building his fences for governor at the expense of the automobile owner. Every owner should remember Harvey. If he gets to be governor he may use the same system in some other way. It may cost you a quarter next year to get your license even though the law does not provide a fee to anyone at all. The Exchange Bank offered to give a free service but it was ignored.

Edward Meredith, well known Miami county farmer, member of the Farm Bureau, an active worker for that organization, a man that has been interested in politics in behalf of the Gowdy-Marshall faction the past few years, has withdrawn his support this year. Mr. Meredith was to be their candidate for central committee in that township but after learning that George Little was going to use his effort to organize outside of the two factions, promptly withdrew from the race. Mr. Meredith had advocated good government but evidently was willing to trust the leadership of someone else than Gowdy-Marshall. Probably the Sutton treasury scandal and the McDuffie sodomy cases fell far from his idea of good government.

M. A. Broadstone in his campaign for state representative must be a politician. If he is not that he must have magnetic powers almost beyond human endeavor. Politically every body knows where "Mike" stands. He is not trying to deceive anyone. He has done something no other man has ever accomplished in county politics. He has united the factions and the W. C. T. U. on one common ground in support of his candidacy. Two years ago the Gowdy-Marshall faction and the W. C. T. U. opposed Mr. Broadstone. Following the primary these leaders together over a common board. He should have H. E. Schmidt and Marcus Shoup at one end of the table. At the other Judge R. L. Gowdy and L. T. Marshall while in between one side should be Mrs. Carrie Flatter, say next to Mr. Schmidt and the host, Mr. Broadstone between Judge Shoup and Mr. Marshall. After they have filled themselves of the viands and delicacies that might be expected at a Senator's table, Mrs. Flatter should have the extreme privilege and unbounded pleasure of "returning thanks" before the harmonious little party leaves. The Victrola should have a part and render as the guests leave, "When Shall We Meet Again?"

BIDS ON COLLEGE SCIENCE HALL ARE OVER ESTIMATE

The bids on the new science hall of the college were opened yesterday at a meeting of the board and all of them were over the estimated cost by the architects, Hall & Lethly of Springfield. The architects are to make some changes in the specifications in an effort to reduce the cost of the structure. A committee was appointed to meet Monday evening with the architects and come to some conclusion. The board desires to erect a building for about $20,000.

PLATFORM FOR THE NEW COMMITTEE ORGANIZATION

Following the filing of petitions of candidates for central committee and the proposed movement for a reorganization of the committee outside of the old factions, the Xenia Gazette published a statement that George Little was aligned with H. E. Schmidt in this movement. The object was apparent at the time that the proposed re-organization might be handicapped and Mr. Little's efforts thwarted. The following article appeared yesterday in the Gazette in reply to the published report and also that the public may know the platform upon which this movement is being placed before the voters of the county as well as the candidates themselves.

"Articles appearing in the Gazette during my absence from home relative to the Republican Central Committee, have been brought to my attention. It might be inferred from reading these articles that every candidate for committeeman throughout Greene County was owned by some faction."

"I want to correct this impression for I happen to know that quite a number of the candidates are under no obligation to any one. In fact I believe the majority of them want to see the committee organized out of both factions."

"It was this belief, and the hope I might assist in the organization of the committee along non-factional lines, that induced me to become a candidate. This I did on my own motion and without consulting the bosses, which I now understand was an unparadeable sin. I further want to correct the impression that I became a candidate in order to 'oppose' my friend and neighbor, Frank L. Smith. When I filed my nomination papers on June 1st, I had no thought that Mr. Smith expected to run; in fact I knew nothing of it until after June 9th when he filed his nomination papers."

"It is not important who is elected committeeman. The important thing is to get a non-factional committee, which can lead the Republican party to victory this fall. Two years ago, while acting as President of the Harding and Coolidge Club, I became convinced that it was the duty of every good Republican to do everything in his power to rid the party of the curse of factional politics in Greene County. With a united and harmonious party, this county would take its rightful place in party councils, State and National."

TRIBUTE TO REV. McELHINNEY

Rev. R. S. McElhinney, closed his work as pastor of our Cedarville, O., congregation on Sabbath, June 11th, and with his family has retired to their farm near Bloomington, Ind., in order that he may recuperate his health. His double duties as minister and as Professor of Education in Cedarville College for the past two years proved too much for his strength.

Prof. McElhinney's presence and services in this community will be much missed, not only as an earnest and faithful preacher of the truth as it is in Christ, a tender and beloved pastor, a teacher in the College, where his thorough scholarship, gift of teaching, cultured manner and genial spirit endeared him to faculty and students, but also as a citizen and friend whose influence was strong and helpful.

It is the earnest hope of his many friends that he shall be granted a complete and early recovery of his health that he may resume the work for which he is so richly endowed.

THE FOURTH WAS AN IDEAL DAY FOR EVENTS

It is seldom that we have a Fourth of July when the weather permits the wearing of light trousers and when one could sit in the sun and be comfortable. But such was the case Tuesday and those that enjoyed the out of doors were greatly refreshed. So far as a celebration was concerned, there was nothing worthy of note other than the usual picnic parties to various resorts.

Many from here attended the celebration at the fairgrounds at Springfield under the auspices of the Eagles. The horse show in the afternoon and again in the evening was one of the best held in this section for some time. A three heat race for three year olds in the afternoon and the various stunts for fancy riding horses as well as heavy horses, G. E. Jobe and Wm. Conley had horses in the riding class under the direction of Cy Turner of Wilberforce, who has a training stable.

In the evening there was a magnificent display of fireworks and it is said that the crowd was the largest in the history of the fair grounds.

COMPROMISE REACHED ON CLOSING OF ALLEY

Council met in regular session Monday evening, all members being present except Member Ewbank. The bills amounting to $400 were ordered paid.

At a former meeting a petition from the Farmers' Grain Co. was presented to close an alley running East and West from Main street to Miller street, or that part of it that abutted the company property on each side.

A cross petition was filed by the DeWine Company objecting to closing the alley. Solicitor Harry D. Smith rendered an opinion to the council that the alley could not be closed without damages to other property owners and that when the addition was plotted the alley was provided for at that time.

By agreement among all parties the alley will be left open as it has been and the Grain Company will provide an outlet around the end of the warehouse that is over the outlet of the alley on Main street.

MELON CROP PROMISES TO BE A LARGE ONE

The watermelon crop this year should be a large one from all reports. The recent rains came at the right time and with the cooler weather melons are setting on and this insures a crop without rust. The only danger would be a hail storm.

Prof. Allen is a graduate of Wooster University and also of Xenia Seminary and has been connected with the college since 1906. It is with much regret that the friends of the college and the community hear he is to leave the local institution. He has devoted 16 years of his life to the upbuilding of the institution and he has been tireless in his efforts that have been fruitful and highly appreciative. Not only will the institution lose a valuable member of the faculty but the community recognizes the loss of one who has done much for our chautauque in the past and the winter lecture courses.

The Winfield institution is under the control of the Methodist church and is an old institution with much prestige behind it and a large alumni. The attendance of the college is about 600 and it is fully recognized by the association of colleges.

Prof. Allen leaves the college and the community with the wishes for success in his new field and that the friendships established by himself and family shall long be cherished.

FINAL ON THE BONUS.

Monday the legislature was called together to consider some plan of providing additional funds to complete the payment of the soldier's compensation, the original bond issue as authorized by the voters not being enough.

It was not necessary to provide for another bond issue. The state has a surplus of something like eight or ten million dollars on hand. Only about 7 and one half million more is needed so the legislature appropriated this money from the surplus on hand, a very wise move. It will save the state money and provide funds for the soldier boys.

We are just now reaping the benefit of Governor Davis' reorganization plan where many jobs were abolished and many offices combined that has saved the state a vast sum.

HONEY PHILOSOPHY

It ain't always necessary to use figures to use arithmetic. Here's a young man all dressed up and no where to go. Add temptation, weakness of character, desire for ease, opportunity for theft assistance of security, freight at discovery, and the sum total is a murderer. Wipe the whole business of the blackboard in the electric chair and what have you left?—nothin'. If jails were schools you could teach subtraction an maybe get the sum total back to the young fellow all by himself and then by addition produce a healthy, beneficial citizen worth money to the state and helpful to other folks. Maybe schools are better than jails? What do you think?

Her Other Boarder.

The Finish Gone or Clogged?

Mr. George Hoar in Washington thought he'd have to re-varnish, but come to find out
he had varnish enough on his car. It was clogged (dull) by dirt ground in by exposure and ordinary cleaning.

When Brighten-All took that dull off he put off re-varnishing
for two years.

CANNOT DO BETTER WITH MONEY

You don't want life insurance, because you "can do better with your money." Your business pays you even now, you say, fifteen per cent on your capital.
Does it so? But money itself cannot earn fifteen per cent. Safely invested—not on hazardous speculation—it will return on the average not to exceed five per cent. The extra ten per cent is the result of your labor, your energy and resourcefulness, your superior executive ability. Death will end all that. The extra ten per cent represents the money value of your life to your family and your estate. Death would destroy that value, but life insurance will indemnify against the financial loss, just as fire insurance lessens the loss when property burns.

LESSON FOR JULY 9

DANIEL INTERPRETING NEBU-
CHADNEZZAR'S DREAM

LESSON TEXT—Daniel 2.
GOLDEN TEXT—The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of His Christ; and He shall reign forever and ever.—Rev. 11:15.
REFERENCE—MATTHEW—14:26, 28,
7:13, 14:7; John 18:33-35.
PRIMARY TOPIC—How God Answered
Daniel's Prayer.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Daniel Reveals the King's Dream.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
—How Daniel Met a Severe Test.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
—God's World-Kingdom: Its Nature and Method.

I. Nebuchadnezzar's Dream (vv. 1-13).
This dream made a tremendous impression upon the king's mind, but he had forgotten its content. He urgently demanded of the wise men that they make known the dream and its interpretation. Because of their failure the king was very furious and commanded all the wise men of Babylon to be slain.

II. The Revelation of the Dream
(vv. 14-35).
When the decree was in process of execution Daniel was sought out to be slain. He sought an interview with the king and obtained time. Note:

1. The prayer meeting in Babylon (vv. 14-18). Daniel was the leader in that prayer meeting. He called his fellows together and most definitely prayed to God. Their lives were at stake; their need was great.
2. Daniel's ascription of praise to God (vv. 19-23). God heard their prayer and Daniel responded in lofty strains of praise to God.

3. Daniel before the king (vv. 24-30). Because he had been with the king and had obtained wisdom he was confident before the great king.

4. The content of the dream (vv. 31-35). Daniel made known to the king that in his dream he had beheld
a great image with a head of gold, breast and arms of silver, belly and thighs of brass, legs of iron and feet part of iron and part of clay. He beheld the image smitten by a stone and the stone became a great mountain.

III. The Interpretation of the Dream
(vv. 36-49).
1. The head of gold represented the Chaldean monarchy with Nebuchadnezzar as its head (vv. 37, 38). With the accession of Nebuchadnezzar to the throne, the times of the Gentiles began.

2. The breast and arms of silver represented the Medo-Persian power
(v. 38). The Medo-Persian power was a kingdom inferior to the Chal-
dean.

3. The belly and thighs of brass represented the Grecian empire under Alexander the Great (v. 39).

4. The legs of iron represented the Roman empire (vv. 40-43).

(1) The two legs represented the eastern and western divisions of the Roman empire. (2) The feet of iron and clay represented the two elements
of human government, which inhered
in the Roman empire and are present
today in all forms of government, namely, absolutism and socialism, or imperialism and democracy. These elements have no coherency.

5. The stone cut out of the mountain (vv. 44, 45). This is the kingdom of heaven so graphically set forth in the New Testament for the kingdom of heaven is the kingdom which the God of heaven shall set up. (1) The stone is Christ (Isa. 28:16; Matt.
21:42-44). (2) When did the stone strike? The impact of the stone was upon the feet of the column (v. 34). This shows that it did not strike at Christ's first coming, for the Roman empire was a unit at that time; not even the division of the empire as represented by the two legs had taken place as yet. The stone smitten the feet shows that the stone
will strike when the Roman empire shall have been divided up into ten kingdoms. (3) The kingdom of heaven
is thus seen to be brought into realization through a great catastrophe. The end is not by gradual and peaceful extension through preaching the gospel,
but by a crushing blow. The stone does not fill the earth by crowding the colossus out, neither by securing its submission to God, but destroying it.
Gentile dominion shall end in a crash;
upon its ruins shall be built the kingdom of heaven. The action of the stone is of judgment, not grace. The text plainly says it "after" the stone has done its smiting work that it becomes a great mountain and fills the whole earth (see Psalms 2: 5, 6; Zech.
14:1-9). Just as the first part of this dream was literally fulfilled, so shall the last part be fulfilled. Messiah's kingdom shall be a real and literal kingdom.

News Spreads of Miracles.
Jesus went over the sea of Galilee,
and a great multitude followed him,
because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.—
John 6:1 and 2.

Forgiveness of Sins.
Blessed are they whose iniquities
are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.—Romans 4:7.

Influence.
Influence is the exhibition of character.—W. M. Taylor.

Where They Were.
On inquiring why they made so much noise upstairs, the twins told me that they were just playing "war."
Pretty soon the noise ceased, all was still; becoming uneasy at the unusual silence, I went upstairs to investigate; they were nowhere to be seen;
but after calling several times and asking where they were, a still, small voice from under one of the beds answered: "We didn't tell, but we're somewhere upstairs."—Exchange.

Fields enchanted, and woods of drear,
Famine erected, royal and still.
Hushed in silver peace each stream,
Tall and proud each ivied hill.

Hush! Like some late bird that lingers,
Strange wild voices come and go.
At the wind, with fairy fingers,
Hears the wild dance of the snow.

MORE GOOD THINGS

Put one cupful of raisins through the meat grinder, and then cook in a quart
of chicken stock
for twenty minutes. Thicken with six tablespoon-
fuls of flour,
blended to a paste
with one-fourth
of a cupful of butter; season
with one teaspoonful of salt, a few dashes of pepper. Add one pint of thin cream mixed with the beaten yolk of an egg. Stir until heated through,
and serve with a garnish of the stiffly beaten white, flavored with two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice.

Imitation Pates de Foie Gras.—Roll
in separate sauce pans a calf's tongue and a calf's liver and let stand for a day in the refrigerator so that both will be cold and firm. Peel and cut up the tongue into small triangular pieces that will look like the truffles in pates. Put the liver through a food chopper, using the finest knife and repeating the process. Into a large mixing bowl add the chopped liver and one-fourth its volume in melted or softened butter, working the two together until smooth. Now add to the liver paste one tablespoonful of strained onion juice, one teaspoonful each of made mustard and worcestershire sauce, one-fourth of a teaspoonful each of ground cloves and cayenne pepper, one-half of a teaspoonful of salt and a half cupful of flour. The batter must not be too thick. Have the inside of jars or glasses and pack
the paste as firmly as possible, mixing
the bits of calf's tongue with it. Cover with melted butter and put on the covers when the butter is hard. Set in the refrigerator and the mixture will keep for weeks.

Waffles.—Beat one egg, add two cupfuls of sour milk, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of soda, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and about three and a half cupfuls of flour. The batter must not be too thick. Have the iron quite hot before greasing
both sides. Do not look at the waffle until it has time to be cooked. Do not serve hot syrup with hot waffles
as it makes the crispest waffle soggy.

TEST EYES OF MILLION KIDS
Vision of All Pupils in New York Public Schools Examined in One Day by Physicians.

New York.—Nearly 1,000,000 boys and girls of New York's public schools
had their eyes tested in one day recently. It was health day in the schools, and the Eyesight
Conservation Council of America co-operated with the school authorities in arranging the wholesale eye testing and distributed 50,000 copies of a pamphlet on the care of the eyes.

Teachers in the schools will cooperate in the examinations for defects of vision. Ears, teeth, nutrition and nasal breathing will also be tested.

Goes Too Far for Death Data.
New York.—Seeking data for his book, "The Hereafter," Thomas W.
Weggelius of Brooklyn, a twenty-three year-old chemist, swallowed what he thought was just enough anesthetic to take him to death's portals. The book will never be finished for young Weggelius miscalculated the dose and the portals swung wide for him.

Extreme Economy.
A neighbor had some dental work done. When the filling was completed the tooth felt too long, causing him nervousness and annoyance. I asked him why he didn't have the dentist grind it off a little and he said seriously: "Well, I hate to think of all that gold dust going to waste after I've paid for it."—Ex-

Earth-Slip Moved Whole Town 11 Feet

Renton, Wash.—Residents of Cedar Falls, a mountain town
forty miles from Puget sound, were terrorized recently when the entire place moved eleven feet toward Cedar Lake. Should the slide continue it will mean the loss of all property and the abandonment of the town site.
It has been found that the clay formation upon which the foundations are erected lies in a slanting rock strata of extreme smoothness. There is really nothing but the weight of the clay subsoil to keep it balanced.
The winter's deep frost and a supposed earthquake shock may have been cause of the earth-slip. As every section of the town moved exactly the same direction and space the only damage was a few broken window lights.

FIGHT ON PNEUMONIA

Army Doctors Seek Vaccine to Prevent Dread Disease.

Mortality in Modern War Could Be Cut One-Half If Preventive for Pneumonia and Other Respiratory Diseases Is Found.

Chicago—Merritt W. Ireland, surgeon general of the United States army, declared that the mortality in modern war could be cut virtually one-half if a preventive for pneumonia and other respiratory diseases could be found.

As a corollary he asserted the elimination of the menace of pneumonia would cause such a rapid increase in the population of the world that in a short time we wouldn't know what to do with the surplus.

His statements were made at the Congress hotel, where he was a guest of medical men attending the eighteenth annual congress on medical education, public health and hospitals. He said they are based on figures compiled from the death lists of Americans in the great war.

These figures disclose that while 87,000 soldiers were killed on the battlefield, 45,000 died from pneumonia in the hospitals and training camps, he said. Of these 42,000 died in four months.

"The greatest problem before medical men today is finding a vaccine or preparation which will prevent the contraction of disease which lead to pneumonia and death," General Ireland said. "This controlled, deaths from other diseases, especially in warfare, would be negligible."

"Physicians all over the country are bending their best efforts to the solution of this problem. In the army we have been making extensive experiments and it is possible now that we are on the track of a preparation which will lead to the desired results."

"Within the last few weeks army physicians have been trying out a new vaccine in the army and some of the reports are encouraging. That, however, is all we can say. It will take months of work before anything definite will be known."

"If war should be declared tomorrow, I would not need to have a single cot prepared for patients suffering from typhoid fever and malaria, the diseases which worked such havoc in the Spanish-American war. These diseases are under control. But under present conditions we would have to make a huge outlay both in money, beds, and medicines for the fight against respiratory diseases."

IS JUST 103 YEARS YOUNG

Mrs. Lulu C. Daniel, oldest inmate of the Arkansas Confederate home near Little Rock, Ark., is just one hundred and three years of age. She is anything but a "has been," having a younger outlook on life than many women half her age. She makes all her own clothes, even to the Irish crocheted lace on her dainty collars. She is a stranger to digestive or other ills. Her lightness of foot is phenomenal.

Pigs Milk Cow.
Leroy, Va.—A mysterious milking every night for some time of a cow belonging to David Baker, a farmer of this county, has just been explained. Keeping a constant watch on the cow for a night revealed the fact that several pigs were responsible. The pigs were found standing on their hind legs pulling and tugging at their breakfast.

Boy Knocks Man's Pipe In Haymow; Barn Burned

John L. Hayward of West Bridgewater, Mass., was enjoying an after-breakfast smoke at the door of his barn when a boy in a passing automobile threw a snowball. It knocked the pipe out of Hayward's mouth. While Hayward pursued the boy, burning tobacco from the pipe set fire to the hay in the mow. The barn and dairy were destroyed, with a loss of $2,200.

Cost of a Pound of Honey.
Few of us realize what a pound of honey means to the bees who produce it. To make a pound of clover honey, bees must take the nectar of 85,000 clover blossoms; and to do this requires 2,750,000 visits to the blossoms by the bees. In other words, in order to collect enough nectar to make one pound of honey, a bee must go from hive to flower and back again 2,750,000 times.

WHAT SHALL WE EAT?

This is season of the year when every member of the family will enjoy an:

English Plum Pudding.—Soak one-half pound of stale bread crumbs in scalded milk, using one cupful. When cool add one-fourth of a pound of brown sugar, the well-beaten yolks of five eggs. Drizzle lightly with cream, add one-half pound of raisins, one-fourth pound each of currants and candied cherries finely cut, two ounces of citron cut in thin shreds. Add one-half pound of sweet finely chopped and creamed, one-half of a grated nutmeg, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, the same of soda, one-third of a cupful of orange juice; mix well and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Turn into a buttered tube mold and steam six to eight hours. Serve with:

Lemon Sauce.—Mix carefully one tablespoonful of cornstarch and one cupful of fine granulated sugar, a little salt, and one cupful of boiling water, while beating constantly. Cook five to six minutes, add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and a grating of the rind, two tablespoonfuls of butter and a generous grating of nutmeg.

Steamed Brown Betty.—Mix two cupfuls of brown bread crumbs with two cupfuls of chopped apple, add two-thirds of a cupful of brown sugar, one cupful of seeded raisins mixed with two tablespoonfuls of flour and one-half teaspoonful of salt; add one cupful of milk to which one beaten egg has been added and beat thoroughly. Steam in buttered molds two hours. Serve with lemon or vanilla sauce.

Angel Food Pudding.—Bake an angel food in a large sheet. When cool cut in rounds or oblongs, dip in melted fondant and cool until firm. Serve with any brightly-colored sauce such as strawberry or raspberry sauce. This may be made of the crushed fresh fruit or canned juice, thickened after straining from the seeds.

How to "Reduce."
I have a letter from "J. D. S." inquiring if there is a reliable cure for fat. While this is not a health column, still I confess an interest in this topic. If "J. D. S." is having trouble "reducing" he might go to Mesopotamia and perspire. Our old friend, Sullim P. Raja, writes that a fat person simply melts and runs down in that climate. As early as the middle of the last century an aviator to find himself bathed in perspiration. The "cool" of the night means a temperature of 90 degrees; by 11 o'clock the temperature rises to 120 degrees, and at midday the air simply burns the lungs. Nobody remains fat in Mesopotamia, and nobody works if it can be avoided, and Sullim tells me that it generally is avoided under the pretext of turning everything over to Allah. All the fat pilgrims needs in Mesopotamia is somebody to support him. If this can be arranged, the fat takes care of itself. However, one might reduce, even in this climate, quite handsily, while looking for somebody to support one.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Finny Veterans.
What is the average age of fish? There is not a great deal of information on the point, but it would seem that a place is a veteran at twenty. One of that age was recently caught in the North sea. It had been previously caught 16 years ago, when it was reckoned to be about four years old. An identification disk was placed on it in accordance with the international scheme of inquiry into the migration, growth and age of fish. Then it was released, but it ultimately ended its romantic career in the toils of a trawl net. The oldest-living fish would seem to be carp, specimens of which have been known to live 200 years; while at Plymouth, in a tank, is a large conger eel whose age is reckoned at forty.

Foods From South America.
The red pepper probably was used as food in South America thousands of years before the discovery of Europe in the sixteenth century took it up in a serious way as a remedy for various ills. The winter squash is found wild in Uruguay, a fact which is used to confound the botanists who believe that this Thanksgiving standby originated in the far East. Zankes think of the Hubbard squash as a delicacy eternally allied with New England, but its seeds have been found in the ancient tombs near Lima, tombs of Peruvians who died without ever having heard of the Mayflower or of Bunker Hill.

A Conversation.
Between 2 and 3 o'clock—at the half-way house of night—I heard slow hoofs below my window, and leaning out saw under moonshine two great cart horses wandering down the road together. They were enjoying a phase of their existence unknown to us. They conversed in little sounds and when one stopped, to snort and snuff at the water of a duck pond by the way, the other also stopped, raised his head and looked steadfastly up into the starry sky. I saw the moonlight in his big eyes. Presently they put their noses together. Then one gave a slight start—perhaps at the opinion of the other—and side by side they sauntered away into the night-hidden land.—Philpotts.

Stern Critic of Education.
The teacher had sent numerous notes in vain endeavor to get Johnny battled and cleaned up. There was no reply and no visible improvement in the boy's appearance, until at last the mother, driven to desperation, sent the teacher a long letter saying, among other things: "What is it to the teachers whether the children in their schools have a bath once a day, or once a week, or once a month, or once a year? They are washing the sap all out of the children, and that is how so much tuberculosis gets started."

Hire Makes Intelligent Pet.
Mr. Edgar Wright, living at Sutton Bridge, Lincolnshire, England, has a hare which he has named and taught to play a tambourine and turn a wheel. He caught it on a farm when only two days old, and fed it with a spoon until it was able to feed itself. His queer antics about the house led to its being trained, and it will now tap the tambourine with its forepaws as often as it is asked. It stands on its hind legs to turn the wheel. After it has done its "turn" it returns to Mr. Wright, and either nestles down to rest or climbs about him, after the manner of a kitten.

Penny as Financial Barometer.
The cent is the barometer of business, and it is interesting to note that during financial depression a large number of these coins accumulate in the treasury. Even a big storm or a strike will cut down the number of pennies in circulation, for the penny-reading public is indoors, or else forced to save for "rainy days" that threaten. It is a sign of prosperity when large numbers of pennies are in circulation.

Famous London Bridge.
Blackfriars bridge, a famous structure across the Thames, in London, was built by Robert Mylne, in 1790 to 1793. Owing to its piers giving way it was replaced by an iron structure resting on granite piers. It is 2,222 feet long and 80 feet broad. The bridge derives its name from an ancient monastery of the Black Friars, which once stood on the bank of the river close at hand. It dated from 1276, and was the scene of several parliamentary wars and a strike will cut down the number of pennies in circulation, for the penny-reading public is indoors, or else forced to save for "rainy days" that threaten. It is a sign of prosperity when large numbers of pennies are in circulation.

THE CHILDISHNESS OF THE CHILD

When a thoughtful person looks into the face of a little child he sees written there, and also in the palms of his hands, and the soles of his feet, the word, POSSIBILITY. Meditate on that word, POSSIBILITY. Continue to read it and think about its meaning and you will discover that the word leads you into one of two directions: It is possible for that little child to become a great man, to be of incalculable benefit to his generation, and to leave upon posterity the imprint of a noble life. The other direction shows that it is possible for that child through neglect to become a criminal—uneducated criminal—who will blight the lives of thousands of people and increase the tax burden of the community in which he lives. It is possible for him to become a curse to his family, a menace to society, and a blot on the page of history. Which direction do you want the POSSIBILITY to take in your child's case?

The child is the indispensable unit, the essential factor, and the master in all spheres of human activity. Around the child the world must revolve. From the child society must evolve. Heaven bends to bless and breathe a benediction of infinite love upon the child—the infant king—of social destinies. The child cannot become great, useful and powerful if the childishness of the child is taken from it; if he is robbed of the spirit of youth; taken out of the sphere of innocence, and deprived of the domestic blessings that belong to him.

The curse of this hour is the childishness of children. We haven't children any more. Babies are plunged into the maelstrom of social iniquity. They are prematurely advanced to girlhood and boyhood, and are ushered on the stage where young men and young women play the fool for the pleasure of a world of vultures. Parents are ambitious for their daughters to become social factors and for their sons to become social leaders; consequently, they are prematurely advanced. In advancing them, forcing them, and introducing them to a world of social maturity they are robbing them of their childish nature, inclinations, innocence, pleasure, and sweetness.

One can stand in the midst of so-called young men and young women and cry out in anguish and sorrow, "Where are the children! O, where are the children!" The girls of today know more than their grandmothers knew at seventy-five years of age. Boys can teach their old, aged grandfathers.

Where are the children? The Juvenile Society of today is a curse, an infamous blot on the page of American history. It is so because parents have robbed their children of childhood.

MY KANSAS FLOWER

You should see the stately sunflower, growin' by my kitchen porch. Like a watchman on the campus, holdin' up his regal torch. Every day he pays obeisance to the author of his power, smilin' at the master-plan, every minute—every hour. Not a frown from constant service ever clouds his patient face. On he grows—to full perfection, standin' in an humble place. Keerin' nothin' fer environs—thoughtful only of his plan,—settin' forth a rich example for his hapless neighbor, Man. Though our station be the humblest, there is allers room to grow. Angles from the heights is callin' Glory becoms—let us go! Ain't no harm to ever-shadder smaller blossoms if we can. Never will be no objections to a bigger, better man! Sunflower sets a splendid pattern as she towers above our head,—firmly rooted—crowned with glories, what more fittin' could be said? Ain't no limit to the growin' when our time is wisely spent. Every passion with the knowin' lifts us from environment!
